Two Shows Nightly—Matinee Every Saturday at 3

PROGRAM FOR WEEK ENDING MONDAY, MAY 29

MONDAY—Pearl White in "The Cornucopia," a third in series of "The Iron Claw." Also a "Pathe drama," "The Girl Who Won," featuring Jackie Sanders. Instead of the usual comedy we will show the comic "Old Unchanging Holland."

TUESDAY—Gladys Farrar, the great dramatic singer of grand opera, her first appearance in motion pictures. See her wonderful interpretation of "Carmen." Supported by Wallace Reid, Horace Campbell, Pedro de Cordoba and others. There are two motion pictures, "Carmen," the other featuring Theda Bara, and coming in the afternoon later. See them both and compare them. "The Iron Claw" is repeated.

WEDNESDAY—Theda Bara in "The Galley Slave." The New York papers devoted columns to this film, speaking of it as a terrific picture of emotion. Theda Bara, in the opinion of New York, is America's greatest actress.

THURSDAY—Hazel Dawn in a Daniel Frohman success, "The Masquerade." This Famous Players film is equally a great success in Europe and America.

FRIDAY—Robert Edison in "Big Jim McGarrity," supported by Eleanor Woodruff. This is a breezy, wholesome story with the character of a big man; mentally and physically. It's a fine story, well pictured. "Pathe" current events, showing United States war vessels at Quantico, and other scenes.

SATURDAY—Charles Cherry, his first appearance here, in "The Mummy and the Hummingbird." A story somewhat different from other picture plays. The comedy this night is entitled "Circumstantial Evidence."

(Watch for the coming of the Pathe pictures of the Covina Masonic parade and coronation laying. Here soon.)

Donald Warner Goes To Lake Geneva

High School Boy, Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warner, Chosen as Representative of County Y. M. C. A. at Older Boys' Conference—Will Spend Two Weeks in Famous Camping-Grounds.

Donald Warner, 15 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warner of this city, has been selected as the representative of the County Y. M. C. A. at the International Older Boys' Conference, to be held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, July 18 to 31.

Warner is in his sophomore year in the Covina high school, and is one of the best mentally-equipped scholars in the valley, added to which is a record in county Y. M. C. A. work that has won him the trip to the east, so coveted by many hundreds of boys in Los Angeles county. He will represent the Los Angeles county Y. M. C. A. at this conference, and will carry the message from that organization, relative to what is being accomplished here, and the methods employed.

At Camp Wilkie at Catalina last year, Donald Warner was awarded the pennant for the highest efficiency marks of any boy among the 125 at the camp during the year, which was based on clean sports, mental grasp of subjects of study, and Christian character and habits. It was the winning of this pennant that largely decided with the officials of the Y. M. C. A. that the Covina lad would make the best material for a representation at the big Lake Geneva camp, a camp where boys are congregated from all over the United States.

Lake Geneva is about 90 miles out of Chicago and Wisconsin, and is one of the famous chautauque gathering places, a beautiful stretch of limpid water, with wooded slopes and wild woods scenery. Last year at the annual conference, the camp was the scene of the most successful of the chautauque season.

Ernest Thompson Seton, William H. Danforth, Burr Blackburn, and John L. Alexander, on enrolling at the camp, the boys take Indian names, and are at once a part of an active out-of-door life. The country affords wonderful opportunities for sports of this kind, and for instruction in Indian lore. The lake is the old camping-ground for several tribes of Indians, and is a place immortalized by Fenimore Cooper and other writers of Indian tales.

Young Warner's parents are naturally pleased that their son has been selected. Mr. Warner has always taken an active and substantial interest in the work of this organization, and considers it one of the best ways of developing staunch Christian character in a boy. Donald will in all probability make the journey in company with some of the Y. M. C. A. officials, but if this is not possible, will make the trip alone.

MERWIN SCHOOL PROGRAM PLEASES MANY VISITORS

Last Friday was visiting day for the patrons and friends of the Merwin school, and in spite of the cold and threatening weather, quite a number attended the interesting afternoon exercises. About the room were exhibited the remarkably good art and handicraft work of the Spanish children, the stencils and drawings attracting the most attention and very favorable comment.

The exercises began, most appropriately, with the singing of "America," followed by the singing of the flag which always means so much when given by children of foreign birth. Then came songs, recitations, folk dances, which latter are of extreme interest to these children. Singing in groups, in classes, the graceful rhythmic figures were carried out, the faithful Viols, giving the needed melody.

At the close of the May-pole dance, the other girls served fruitade and wafers to the parents and friends. The entire afternoon was one of special enjoyment, and those who saw the marked improvement of the Irwindale children, appreciated the faithful work of the teachers, Mrs. Brownfield and Miss Craig.

NOTICE

I wish to thank the many friends and customers I have had while in business in Covina, and to direct their attention at this time to the fact that my future place of business will be in the Brick Shops at Seventh and Grand, Los Angeles.

At this place I will be glad to welcome Covina ladies, and to give them every satisfaction that a larger and increased stock will permit.

Mrs. H. L. Smith.

MASONS AND ODD FELLOWS TO CROSS BATS MEMORIAL DAY

Much has been said about preparedness of late, but it will be nothing to the preparedness of the next few days in anticipation of the great struggle between the baseball teams of the local Masons and Odd Fellows. The defy was made yesterday in unmistakable terms, and the opposing teams are rushing players in from the scattered places of Southern California. Long distance telephone messages have been sent to Bert Loughheed, letters have been sent to others whose names are being kept a secret, and Bob Welch has been hardening up his wing behind the Covina fire-house. Charlie Griffiths and Fred Middaugh are "burning 'em over" at the lumber yard, and all over the town the old suits have been taken from the moth-balls and are swinging on the clothes-line. The struggle takes place at 2:30 Memorial day afternoon at the high school grounds, and there will be a slight touch made for tickets, the money to be used after the game for hospital expenses. More fun than a league game, and a chance to get back at a number of prominent citizens who used to be good ball players, and may yet have a little more "pop" left for the national game.

Oriental Curios Shown At School Meeting

Mrs. Mertz of Ontario Gives Fascinating Talk on "Little Brown Babies" Garments and Grotesque Miniatures Shown—Next School Afternoon To Come June 8.

The May meeting of the school mothers and teachers was held last Thursday afternoon at the Reed building, the program being preceded by a very general visiting of the rooms by the mothers. The pictures and photographs of the little brown babies, the pupils of the seventh grade gave a very attractive musical program, consisting of vocal choruses and duets, with one piano and one violin solo, all of which reflected great credit upon the young people performing.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. L. H. Mertz of Ontario, who had recently traveled through the East, and whose subject was "The Children of the Orient." A woman of charming and most gracious personality, Mrs. Mertz presented herself an interesting speaker, and her vivid pictures of the little brown babies and children in Japan, China, the Philippines, and Hawaii was fascinating in the extreme. The talk was illustrated by many rare and beautiful curios, which were of unusual interest.

Web-like embroideries and drawn work on gossamer linen; tiny silver miniatures of rickshaws and sedan chairs; tiny Japanese cakes, brilliant in tint and complicated in shape; dainty and beautiful crepe garments, as well as some of the everyday (seldom shown here) clothing of the school boys and girls; quaint awards a full hundred years old; the prayer incense used by all; and many other entertaining and interesting things collected by Mrs. Mertz on her trip, were spread out for inspection.

Everyone present in the large audience felt that the afternoon had been a most entertaining and instructive one, and a hearty vote of thanks was given Mrs. Mertz for her kindness.

The next meeting will be held at the high school auditorium on the evening of June 8, in connection with the annual exhibit. Prof. Jerome O. Cross of Pasadena will be the speaker, his subject, vocational and industrial training. Every father and mother of school children is asked to keep the date in mind, and come.

ARRANGE CONCERTS BY SEVENTH REGIMENT BAND.

Local merchants and interested citizens are planning a series of four concerts by the Seventh Regiment band, to be held Saturday nights in the city. A sum of money has been left over from the celebration of last Saturday, and it is proposed to add to it by subscriptions. It is realized that the Seventh Regiment band is one of the best in this portion of the valley, and the band-leader has offered a reasonable price for the concerts.

Bakersfield Principal Chosen For Covina

Dr. Gowens, Graduate of Yale and Clark University, Will Head Local Union High School—Will Assume Position at End of Term—Professor Morgan Will Go to Imperial City.

The high school board at the meeting Monday night, elected as principal for next year, Dr. B. S. Gowen, at present principal of Kern county high school at Bakersfield. Dr. Gowen is a man of broad training and extensive and varied experience. He graduated from a normal school, from Yale, and from Clark university. It was at the latter institution that he received his doctor's degree (Ph.D.).

Before going to the university he did much grammar school work, and since graduating from the university has had supervision of grade work. He has done much high school work, and several years of normal work. He has had many years of experience as principal, or supervising principal.

The letters of recommendation which helped the board to decide in Dr. Gowen's favor, were many and strong. They were from such men as President Hadley of Yale, Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark university, Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, Boston, and many others, including those where he has taught.

Dr. Gowens was in Covina this week, conferring with the members of the board, but was obliged to leave quickly, as he is still in charge of the Bakersfield schools.

Professor Morgan, as announced last week in the Argus, will assume charge of the Imperial City high school in Imperial valley, at the end of this school term.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM AT METHODIST CHURCH

The annual Memorial services in honor of the soldiers of all American wars will be held next Sunday at 11 a.m. in the First Methodist church. The Civil war veterans will be honored with seats in the front pews; the veterans of succeeding wars will be seated behind them, and the mothers, wives and daughters of veterans will occupy the next pews.

Rev. S. J. McConnell, a Spanish war veteran, and the son of a Civil war soldier, will preach the memorial service. Appropriate music will be furnished by the large choir, and a special number will be rendered by the male quartet. It is expected that a large uniformed company of Spanish war veterans will be present from the Roosevelt camp of Los Angeles, together with a number of members of that camp without uniform. The memorial services are held at 11 a.m., largely because of the fact that the veterans from the city could not attend services at any other hour, and they and the Spanish war men of Covina requested the services to be held when it would suit the Civil war veterans and the veterans of later wars.

The public is invited to attend these services and honor the memory of those who, dead and living, offered their lives on their country's altar.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM IN OAKDALE CEMETERY

Dr. Clarence O. Kimball, pastor of the Glendora Methodist church, the minister who was formerly the pastor of the Great White Temple in Kansas City, will be the speaker in Oakdale cemetery at 10 o'clock on Memorial day, next Tuesday.

The usual exercises by children, and appropriate Memorial day music will be rendered. The old soldiers of Covina, Glendora and Azusa will decorate the graves of fallen comrades.

FARMERS OUTFIT AT WORK

Dr. J. T. Barrett, professor of plant pathology, will talk on "Plant Diseases and Their Control" at a meeting of the Covina Valley Farmers' Club tomorrow afternoon at the home of Jacob Macchellan.
Dr. Barrett is one of the staff at the Riverside experiment station. There will also be a musical program.
A joint picnic will be held with the Claremont Botanical Club at Ganadilla park, June 30, the second Saturday in June.

CORNER-STONE LOWERED TO FOUNDATION BY GRAND BODY OF MASONIC ORDER

ALL AFFILIATED MASONIC ORGANIZATIONS PARTICIPATE IN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY ON BEAUTIFUL SPRING DAY AMONG THE ORANGE GROVES OF SAN GABRIEL VALLEY—GREAT THRONING IS PROFOUNDLY TOUCHED BY BEAVER SPEECH OF LITTLE HERBERT BROWN—DEDICATION WILL TAKE PLACE IN FIFTEEN MONTHS.

Saturday, May 20, 1916, will be remembered in the Covina valley for some time as a day of many flags flying, American liberty bunting everywhere, bands playing, Knights Templar banners and colors, Masonic emblems, and marching men.

It was the occasion of the laying of the corner-stone of the Masonic Home for children, two miles east of Covina, on a knoll above the orange groves of the upper San Gabriel valley. All the subordinate lodges of Southern California had men in line; the Knights Templar made a splendid showing in uniforms and plumes, and every organization affiliated with the Masonic order in this state was represented. There were several thousand visitors in the city, many of them the most prominent men in business, judicial and social circles in the state.

Headed by the the Seventh Regiment band of Pomona, the forty officers of the grand lodge of the state of California by large contingents in the line.

In the solid rock laid as the most important foundation of the new building, a place was hewn in which was deposited a copper receptacle, hermetically sealed, containing the following:

LAI IN THE ROCK.

(1.) A metallic plate, engraved, bearing the following inscription:

"This corner-stone of the central structure of a group of buildings erected by the Masonic fraternity of the jurisdiction of California, as a home for children, was laid by the grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of California on Saturday, May 20, A. D. 1916, A. L. 5916, by Francis Valentine Keesling, deputy grand master.

Deputy Grand Master Francis V. Keesling of San Francisco, laying corner-stone for Masonic Home for children at Covina last Saturday. The parade picture shows Golden West Commandery band of San Francisco leading Knights Templar contingent on Citrus avenue. The buildings to form the super-structure will cost $100,000, and will be dedicated in about fifteen months.

fornia marched from the Covina high school on Citrus avenue, through the main streets of the city, followed by Golden West Commandery band of San Francisco, with the grand commandery, Knights Templar, following, commanded by Grand Commander Elmer E. Stone, and supported in line by the following: Los Angeles commandery No. 9, Pasadena commandery No. 31, Pomona commandery No. 37, Long Beach commandery No. 40, Golden West commandery No. 43, Allambra commandery No. 48, Covina commandery No. 49, Whittier commandery No. 51, Glendale commandery No. 53.

The Knights Templar contingent was followed by Los Angeles Consistory No. 3, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite for Southern California and Arizona, escorted Perry Winslow Weidner, sovereign grand inspector general, and following were the members of the grand council of Royal and Select Masters of California, Robert Hewitt De Witt, most illustrious grand master.

The line of march was made through the main streets of Covina, thence for two miles to the Home on Badillo street, where the formal exercises began at 3 o'clock. After a number by the Golden West commandery band, the invocation was offered by Right Reverend Dean William MacCormack of the Los Angeles Episcopal Pro-Cathedral. The children of the Home sang "America," under the leadership of Miss Lotu Nash.

An impressive and memorable address was delivered by William Sewell Wells, president of the board of trustees of the Home, after which the great crowd was profoundly touched by the presentation of the trowel to the grand master by Master Herbert E. Brown, one of the boys of the Home. After the ritualistic laying of the cornerstone by Grand Master Keesling, another number was played by Golden West commandery band. The principal address of the day was delivered by Grand Orator Samuel Edgerton Burke. Benediction was pronounced by the grand chaplain, John A. B. Fry. Most worshipful Master Malcolm J. McCarthy of Covina lodge 234, assisted in the ritual.

More than fifty subordinate lodges of Southern California were represented ed the funds to erect one building of this group.

THREE BUILDINGS JOINED.

The architect of the buildings for this Masonic Home is John F. Blee of Los Angeles, and the contractor, G. H. Whyte of Pasadena. They are to be erected as a group of three, set in the middle of 55 acres of rolling hill land, commanding a magnificent view of the mountains on the north and the foothills on the south. About twelve acres will be devoted to a landscape garden scheme, and the remainder will be planted to citrus groves, other fruit orchards, and some devoted to general agriculture, the idea being to give the boys and girls a practical education in farming and fruit raising. It is understood that the buildings will be in readiness for occupancy in about fifteen months, when another impressive ceremony of dedication will be held. In the meantime the 65 children who are wards of the Masonic order are comfortably housed in the temporary buildings on the grounds, under the care of Matron Mrs. Maude E. Miller and a competent group of assistants. E. B. Spencer, one of the members of the board of trustees of the Home, is taking an active interest in the direction of affairs. The buildings and land will cost about $100,000.

LOCAL COMMITTEES.

Much of the success of the day was due to the untiring work over a period of weeks of local committees from Covina lodge No. 334, La Paloma chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and Covina commandery, Knights Templar. They were directed by Worshipful Master Malcolm J. McCarthy, and these committees were ably augmented by committees of citizens of Covina, who aided in decorating the city and in entertaining the guests. An excellent band concert was given in the evening in Covina by the Seventh Regiment band.

LUNCH AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Grand officers and participating Masons of the ceremonial of corner-stone laying were entertained at lunch at the Covina Country Club by Covina lodge, F. & A. M.

Those at table were: Francis V. Keesling, deputy grand master; Casimirus J. Wood, grand high priest, R. A. M.; Elmer E. Stone, grand commander, K. T.; William R. Hervey, senior grand warden; William A. Sherman, inspector of thirty-third district; Samuel E. Burke, grand orator; L. W. Bruck, secretary board of relief; David M. Sutherland, grand steward; Harry Andrews, master Henry S. Orme lodge; Ernest E. Ford, grand steward of grand council; W. W. Douglas, grand treasurer grand council; B. W. Fowler, R. G. M.; T. J. Balser, grand lecturer; Benjamin F. Bledsoe, grand captain general, K. T.; Herbert E. Boynton, grand warden, K. T.; W. J. Creels, P. G. M.; Malcolm J. McCarthy, W. M. Covina lodge; Henry Ascroft, grand lecturer, R. A. M.; Charles L. Wilde; W. J. Sanborn, inspector 54th district; Thomas Flint, P. G. M.; John Whicher, grand secretary; Herbert J. Evans, P. G. Wilson, T. H. Sneath, L. A. Phillips, H. P. Los Angeles chapter No. 33.

MASTER BROWN'S SPEECH.

Many hundreds of those assembled at the ceremony heard the childish treble of the little speaker who presented the silver trowel to Grand Master Keesling, but not all could catch the words, although spoken clearly and with fine expression. The speech was one rehearsed by Master Herbert E. Brown with Trustee E. B. Spencer, and the words are as follows:

The children of the Masonic Home, whom you are remembering today on this most happy event in the history of your grand lodge, desire to express to all the Masons of California, through yourself as the representative of the grand lodge, their deepest gratitude and most sincere appreciation for providing us with this beautiful home.

You have selected a wonderful place for us, facing the big blue mountains, with the great San Gabriel valley spreading before us, with its thousands of orange groves and beautiful homes resting under their own vine and fig trees, and with the fragrance of the orange blossom constantly carried to us by the gentle breezes of the ocean, we here commune with all nature in her happiest mood.

Today, most worshipful sir, you are to lay a corner-stone whereupon you will erect a superstructure that will provide the comforts and training of many worthy children, and we pledge you at this time that we children, who

Tomorrow's Game Here With Harvard
May Develop Lead for Covina—Debates Are Spirited on Preparedness
Question—Student Body Will Elect Officers.

(By Wilbur Nye.)

Although we lost the ball game to Alhambra last Saturday, 6 to 5, we are still tied for first place with Glendale and South Pasadena. Our games this year have mostly been close struggles, and last Saturday's game was no exception. Covina got more hits than Alhambra, but Alhambra was able to bunch her hits, and through this and errors, they gained the lead of one run.

Our team is practicing hard for the game tomorrow with Harvard, on our own diamond. We stand a good chance of getting the championship, for the other schools have had games ahead of them, and we expect to win from Harvard.

HIGH JINKS TONIGHT.

Tonight the assembly will be filled for the "jinks." The performers have been putting on the finishing touches to their stunts, and the program will furnish a good laugh throughout.

SOPHOMORE DEBATE.

Tuesday afternoon the sophomore debaters, Milton Philleo and Freedom Olsen, gained the decision from the freshman team, represented by Lucinda Beatty and Gerald Hoyle, in a debate on the question, "Resolved, that at least one year of military training should be required of all high school boys." The sophomores supported the negative. Although they lost the decision, the freshmen have no reason to be discouraged, for the debate was a good one throughout, and each speaker performed in a very creditable manner. Milton Philleo was given first place.

STUDENT BODY ELECTION.

The annual election of student body officers will be held next Monday. It is planned to have a regular election with stamped ballots and election booths.

NEWS NOTES.

The seniors have begun daily rehearsals for the class night entertainment.

Four boys will take part in this year's Reed oratorical contest. They are: Donald Warner, 10th year; Lester Seib and Alford Olmstead, 11th year; Wilbur Nye, 12th year.

MEMBERS REPRESENT STATES ON BAPTIST PROGRAM.

(Contributed.)

Representing their own native states in a unique program of the kind for which the First Baptist church of Covina is coming to be well known, an entertainment was given this week that brought out many hitherto hidden admissions, and told eloquently of the warm spots still cherished by many exiled sons and daughters of the eastern states of the union.

The first on the program was New York, and was represented by an old-time spelling class with several of the gray-haired ones as Johnny, Tommy, Bobby, Mary, Sarah-Ellen, etc. It was well staged, and caused many a laugh. Vermont followed next with a very able address by Mrs. Clifford, who also had an exhibit, quite a collection of the products from the home state. Virginia was next represented by a very able address by Mrs. Fleet. Texas, by Miss Parker in a solo, "I Love You Texas." Mr. Custer in a few well-chosen words gave us to understand he still held dear his native state, Ohio. We were reminded of the money-producing power of Illinois by a sample of her corn and a real live 40-pound shuck which did not fail to squeal at the opportune moment. Mrs. Zimmer also reminded us of Honest Abe and numerous statesmen who headed out from the Sucker state. Minnesota was represented by Miss Irma Nicol in a well-executed and catchy piano solo. Iowa gave us a few of her corn-fed production, four ladies, who were convincing proof that if not strictly corn-fed, were, to say the least, well fed. Also a class song advancing the merits of the home state, and followed by a burlesque on California. Kansas was represented by a solo by Mrs. Catherwood, with a bunch of Kansans coming in on the chorus. This was especially good. The button-hole decorations were sunflowers. Mrs. Custer in formed us in a neat little speech that Nebraska was going to see to it that William Jennings Bryan was to be our next president. Colorado was represented by a class of ladies who displayed the state pennant. Missouri was represented by an enthusiastic bunch who affirmed their state undoubtedly had the "kick" to it, namely the Missouri mule. They also sang an original song written for the occasion. It consisted of five spasms, interposed with the chorus, "I Love You Old Mizoo," and ending with the Mizoo yell. I think to Mrs. Maxwell field may be attributed the most original program originated for the native sons and daughters, beginning with the flower girls. Then a sample of the orange on its native stem was fine, while the beaches were represented by two little tots in bathing suits. And last a solo by a native daughter, Miss Kendall. Only one country outside our own was represented. Rev. Catherwood could not go back on the auld sod, and as his part of the entertainment fed the machine and we listened to the sweet strains of Killarney, followed by "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." This ended the entertainment and was followed by a good social time, cake and fruit punch being served. It was a very enjoyable affair, and voted by one and all worth while. The honors were shared equally by Iowa and Missouri.

MRS. MARIA LINBERG DIES AT VENERABLE AGE.

Maria Christina Linberg, wife of Herman Linberg, died Sunday, May 21st, following an illness lasting over ten weeks. She was 81 years old.

Mrs. Linberg was a native of Sweden. She became a resident of Iowa in 1890, and came to California in 1902, where she settled in Covina. She leaves a husband, Herman Linberg, and three children, two sons and one daughter, being Charles Linberg of Covina, Mrs. Minnie Nelson, Covina, and Axel Linberg, Iowa. The funeral was held on Tuesday morning at Holy Trinity Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. Alfred Fletcher, rector, and the interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were Axel Anderson, Robert Anderson, Carl Anderson, Nels Mortenson, George Aschenbrenner, and Walter Armel. There were many beautiful floral tributes brought to show an appreciation for the long life of usefulness and Christian influence just ended, and there were appropriate musical numbers rendered.

VINE AVENUE DISTRICT AGAIN TO BE URGED.

County Clerk H. J. Leland is sending out for the board of supervisors a call to all property-owners affected by the proposed establishment of road district judge, sitting in the southern district, questions by postal card, constituting an expression of the land-owners in the matter of building a macadam road in that district. It is the famous Vine avenue project, which has contributed more grief to the supervisors than many projects involving millions.

The supervisors now have two projects to offer, one a large district and the other a restricted district. The large project is one that includes 1570 acres. The estimated total cost of improvement is $30,504.21; cost to county, $7,912.40; cost to property-owners, $22,681.81; cost per acre $14.45; cost per 10-acre tract (principal) $144.50; estimated total cost per ten acre tract, $200.13.

END OF LONG SUIT OVER "K. T." VALVE.

Judge Van Fleet, United States district judge, sitting in the southern district, rendered a decision Friday in favor of Kellar-Thomason Company against Snow Manufacturing Company for infringement of patent.

The patent in question was upon a valve for irrigating alfalfa and is one of the most important articles made by Kellar-Thomason Company. The Snow Company is enjoined by the court from infringing the patent on the "K.T." alfalfa valve.

Mr. Thomason said this week that the making of the "K. T." alfalfa valve has come to be something like one-half of the business of the company. The decision is very important, inasmuch as it clears the road for a big increase in the making of these valves.

What Do You Know About The Maxwell Car?

THIS is the time of the year when more people are considering the question of "what car to buy" than at any other time of the year.

This community has its full share of people who will soon be driving their first car or a new car to replace the old one.

Now, we know that we are going to sell Maxwell Cars to a great many of these people—depending upon how many we are able to acquaint with the merits of the Maxwell.

The generous value offered in the car is so evident—its past record is so full of good performance—owners speak so well of it—that when the buyer knows these things, he is eager to buy a Maxwell.

In order to tell as many people as possible about the merits of the Maxwell Car we are going to spend a lot of money in the next few weeks in this paper advertising Maxwell merits to those who do not know them.

The reason—we want to sell as many Maxwells as possible this season. Our future allotments will depend upon how many Maxwells we sell now.

You may know that the Maxwell market is a buyer's market, not a seller's market—broadly speaking. The demand for Maxwells the country over is greater than the supply.

For this reason cars are allotted to dealers by the factory according to the size of the dealer's business.

We want to make a showing and be in a position to get a generous allotment of Maxwells hereafter. Because the more Maxwells are sold in any community, the greater is the future demand. We realize the opportunity to do an ever-increasing Maxwell business.

This is only the first of the several messages we are going to print—a few days apart—concerning the Maxwell Car. But we don't expect to be able to adequately present Maxwell merits in printed words alone.

If you are one who is going to buy a new car you will find it decidedly to your advantage to find out all you can about the Maxwell before you place your order.

Come in and talk it over with us and let us demonstrate the car to you. Then, don't take our word alone, but ask those who now own Maxwells.

Get "posted" about the Maxwell and you will realize more satisfaction and get more "value received" for your motor car money than ever before.

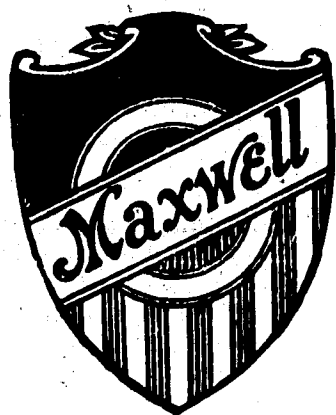

And we are just as willing to have you investigate other cars just as fully as you do ours. The Maxwell will not suffer by the comparison.

Why not start your Maxwell investigation today?

TELEPHONE NO. 3

A NEW MEMORIAL DAY.

The coming Memorial Sunday, May 28, is dedicated by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America to a special purpose—the relief of the world's suffering through war. An appeal sent out by their press service recites that the appalling conditions of suffering and need in the nations directly affected by the war are not known to the masses of our people. We have not been sufficiently informed to inspire our interest and action. A bulletin lately issued by the American Red Cross confirms this statement:

"The imagination of those at home has not been able to grasp the stupendous quantities of everything demanded in this war. Engagements take place of which but little mention is made, each more deadly and bloody than any battle of our Civil war."

The inability of the nations at war, strained as they are, to meet these needs, says the bulletin of the Federal Council, "constitutes an urgent appeal to the neutral nations, and especially to the people of the United States, to use their utmost endeavors to bring relief whenever possible to all who suffer." The Federal Council further states that "the time has come for a relief movement of such magnitude as shall fittingly recognize the obligation of Christianity to respond to all human needs and emphasize to all the world the moral and spiritual consciousness and the Christian and philanthropic spirit of the American people."

NAME THE CABINET MEMBERS.

The strongest thing that the Republican leaders can do at this time to promote unity in the party and to strengthen the party for the struggle to come, is to name now and without equivocation, the names of the members of the cabinet.

For three and one-half years we have seen the workings and the wobbings of the weakest cabinet that has ever been called the president's bureau, and we know to a certainty how greatly this weak cabinet has affected our standing at home and abroad. The Republicans, prior to the convention, should not only unite on the candidate for president, but announce that candidate's choice in filling the positions of that important bureau. The Republican party should go before the country with the names of Cummins and Root and Von Meyer and Burton and Roosevelt and other powerful men of the nation, so that the voter may see how great is the contrast in material between the Republican and Democratic party. A strong cabinet, named ahead of nomination and election, will appeal to the nation as nothing else.

The Republican party is rich in big, outstanding men; the Democratic party is poverty-stricken in this respect. We have seen a very sad example of this in the failure of Bryan, the resignation of Garrison, the vacillations, meddlings and inefficiencies of Daniels. Name the whole program, and show the real bigness of the Republican party.

PATIENT MISERY.

The world has, in a measure, lost sight of Belgium during the last six or eight months. The flames of war have swept elsewhere. The moans of a stricken people have been almost lost in the tumult. But every now and then some hand draws the curtain aside for an instant and we catch glimpses of patient endurance, poignant distress, and heroic fortitude. Here, for instance, is a picture furnished recently by an American relief agent in a report. He writes:

"I have seen thousands of people lined up in the snow and rain, soaked and chilled, waiting for bread and soup. I have returned to the distributing stations at the end of the day and have found men, women, and sometimes children, still standing in line, but later compelled to go back to their pitiful homes, cold, weak, and miserable. It was not until eighteen weary hours afterward that they got the meal they had missed. The 'meal' is three thick slices of bread and a pint of soup. Picture the mental condition of people without work for more than a year and a half, daily face to face with the possibility of starvation, cut off from communication with the outside world by barbed wire and armed cordons. There are 3,000,000 thus suffering and destitute."

HERO NO. 1124.

Roy Allen, brakeman of a freight train running through Tampa, Florida, looked from the locomotive cab and saw Alice Hall, a one-year-old baby, crawling across the track. The train was running fifteen miles an hour; the child was a hundred and twenty-five feet from the engine when Allen saw her first. Unconscious of her danger, she had stopped halfway across the rail. With a shout to the engineer, Allen crawled through the fireman's window, hurried along the running board, and jumped down onto the cowcatcher. The locomotive was six feet from the child when he jumped. One of his feet touched the roadbed between the rails as he grabbed the girl. The front of the train stopped thirty feet beyond the point of rescue. This is what the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission calls Heroic Act No. 1124 in its latest annual report in awarding Roy Allen $1000 and a silver medal. The commission catalogues 128 deeds of heroism rewarded during a year's time. It is an inspiring document, a golden source book for short-story writers and convincing testimony that unselfish bravery is not confined to one race or sex or class or age.

TELL THEM WHERE THEY ARE.

Hundreds of strangers to Covina turn the corner at Citrus avenue and San Bernardino road every day. The boulevard is coming to be more and more traveled. The stream of machines rolls and roars on all day and far into the night.

There should be a sign across the road at this corner, if no more than a canvas sign, bearing the name of the city, or a series of pennants spelling the name of the town. During the Masonic affair we had two banners bearing "Welcome" at this point. A Covina sign could be maintained just as well, and permanently.

There should be a Covina sign at the junction of the valley boulevard with Covina boulevard at Bassett. Quite a little has been said about this simple little matter, but nothing has been done.

A TOWN THAT DIDN'T WANT PORK.

The citizens of Coleman, Texas, wanted a new postoffice building, and, to prove their good faith, bought a $5000 lot with their own money and deeded it to the government. But they were not hungry for "pork." Their congressman, James L. Slayden, introduced a bill appropriating $65,000 for the building, and when they heard about it the Coleman folks sent him word that a $25,000 postoffice would be quite sufficient. The town of Coleman was welcomed into the Society for the Abolition of Public Buildings Pork. What locality will be the next to qualify.

RIVERS FROM GLACIERS.

These Ice Born Streams Gush Forth Milky White in Color.

Some rivers are formed by a rather slow process. Fed by springs or small ponds, they issue forth as mere rivulets to be re-enforced by other streams until they have reached a size that entitles them to be termed rivers. Some, like the St. Lawrence, having their source in some extensive lake, pass through no intermediate state, but proceed as full fledged rivers directly upon their course to the sea.

Others emerge with a rush and roar from the heart of glaciers located far up on the sides of lofty mountains. The waters of these glacier born rivers are not crystal clear, as many suppose, but are milky white, due to the lava dust and powdered scoria contained in the ice mass. This color the waters retain for miles as they flow through the lowlands, proclaiming their parentage to the observant eye.

From the rugged sides of Mount Rainier, which rises to a height of over 14,000 feet and which John Muir declares America's noblest mountain, twenty glaciers radiate like the arms of a gigantic starfish. From each of these springs a river.

The great Nisqually glacier, one of the largest on the mountain, is 400 feet in height. From a cavern in the ice mass a large stream, called the Nisqually, bursts forth with a boom and goes rushing down the valley and finally empties into the waters of Puget sound. It is seldom indeed that one witnesses the formation of a river under such favorable surroundings.—James G. McCurdy in St. Nicholas.

THE WHITE HOUSE SITE.

What David Burns Had to Say to George Washington About It.

When the land for the present capital was being secured the commissioners appointed by President Washington found it hard to persuade some of the local landholders to part with their fields. In "Walks About Washington" an old story good enough to be true is told about one David Burns, a canny Scot, who held out so long that President Washington personally undertook his conversion. After pointing out to the farmer what advantages he would reap from having the government for a neighbor the great man confided:

"But for this opportunity, Mr. Burns, you might have died a poor tobacco planter."

"Aye, mon," snapped Burns, "and had ye no married the Widdie Custis, wif all her nagurs, ye'd ha' been a land surveyor the noo and a mighty poor one at that."

However, when he learned that unless he accepted the liberal terms offered him his land would be condemned and seized at an appraisal probably much lower Burns met the president in quite another mood and to the final question, "Well, sir, what have you concluded to do?" astonished every one by his prompt response:

"Whatever your excellency wad hae nae."

On one of his fields now stands the White House, and an adjacent lot became Lafayette square.

The Early Drum.

Drums are probably an eastern idea introduced by the crusaders into Europe. They are frequently mentioned in accounts of the first crusade. When Edward III. of England and his queen made triumphal entry into Calais in 1347 "tambours" were among the instruments which were played in their honor. Another of these was called a "nacaire," or kettledrum, taken, together with its name, from the Arabs. The poet Chaucer also mentioned this instrument in his description of the tournament in "The Knight's Tale." The king generally kept a troop of these bandmen or minstrels in his employ, and we read that Edward II. on one occasion gave a sum of 90 shillings to Roger, the trumpeter; Janino, the naker, and others for their performances.

Little Things as an Index.

"Here," said an observer, "was a machine upon which appeared the name plate of the manufacturer, a small and not essential feature. But this plate had been set on true, and then the screws by which it was held in place had all been turned up until the slots in their heads all showed in precisely the same position, alike, uniform."

"Whoever put this plate on made a nice, finished job of it, and I should be inclined to think that a shop that had such pride in even the minor details of its work would do good work throughout."—Pittsburgh Press.

Discourtesy.

Discourtesy does not spring merely from one bad quality, but from several—from foolish vanity, from ignorance of what is due to others, from indolence, from stupidity, from distraction of thought, from contempt of others, from jealousy.—La Bruyere.

Kiss Producers.

"I wish mistletoe were in season all the time," said he.

"Why?"

"It means kisses."

"Orange blossoms are never out of season," hinted the girl.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Just Men.

If any one says that he has seen a just man in want of bread I answer that it was in some place where there was no other just man.—St. Clement.

No Sleep There.

"Porter, this berth has been slept in!"

"No, sah; I assuah you, sah. Merely occupied. It's the one over the wheels, sah."—Puck.

Lucy, the little blind daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reulas of Irwindale, returned Thursday from a year at the Berkeley school for the blind, where she has made rapid progress in her studies. She especially enjoys her lessons on the piano, for like most children of Spanish birth, she is extremely fond of music.

GENERAL FARM SUBJECTS AT RIVERSIDE STATION.

Riverside Press: The Davis farm is too far away to serve the needs of Southern California, except in a very limited way. It is, moreover, true that there are problems peculiar to the two sections of the state. In the north, for instance, a great rice industry is being developed; and in the counties of Riverside and Imperial, cotton growing and the production of dates are coming to the front as leading industries. Riverside is about to launch an experiment in the production of asparagus on a large scale; the best crops for the "dry farm" sections have not yet been given scientific study; and there are other problems in the solution of which a trained corps of men and large experiment plots would be of the highest importance.

The citrus station starts off with land enough so that a wide line of experimental work could be undertaken; and there is plenty of vacant land in the vicinity that could be added if necessary. If once a broad work of study and experimentation were undertaken, students would come here from all over Southern California just as they now go to Davis for more proficient training in the farm methods that apply to that part of the state.

The special emphasis of the Riverside institution should always be on the citrus industry, and in this respect the station will have a unique position in all the world. There is no valid reason, however, why its plant, equipment and faculty should not be made available for any line of investigation and experiment that will benefit the farmers and fruit growers of this part of the state.

Rev. Alfred Fletcher will deliver his farewell address in Holy Trinity church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Fletcher will remain in Covina for several weeks, having editorial work to attend to as secretary of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles. His Sundays, however, will be occupied with services in Los Angeles. After a visit to St. Louis in August he expects to remove to Hollywood.

The dance given by the ladies of the Monday Afternoon Club in the clubhouse last Saturday evening was a fitting finale to a day of celebration. The music, furnished by Busch's orchestra of Los Angeles, was exceptionally good. The affair, under the auspices of Mrs. George Fox and a competent corps of helpers, was called a country dance, the guests being dressed in the garb of people from the country. The girls wore their gingham aprons and the men their soft shirts and khaki suits. The ladies report a very good sum taken in to be used in defraying the year's expenses.

STAR THEATER PROGRAMS FOR COMING WEEK.

The Star theater was jammed full for the two performances last Saturday night featuring John Barrymore in "Are You a Mason?" It was also the biggest matinee crowd in the afternoon that has been had at this theater. Mrs. Dietz announces that the theater will very shortly show the Pathe pictures of the Masonic parade and the corner-stone laying, taken on that day.

During the coming week the theater will show: Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen" Tuesday night; Theda Bara in "The Galley Slave," Wednesday night; Hazel Dawn in "The Masqueraders," Thursday night; Robert Edeson in "Big Jim McGarrity" Friday night; Charles Cherry in "The Mummy and the Hummingbird," Saturday night. A regular Monday and Tuesday night crowd of people is enjoying the new serial, "The Iron Claw," featuring Pearl White.

ADDRESS BY JUDGE WILBUR BRINGS LARGE AUDIENCE.

Ushers at the First Methodist church were obliged to rush more chairs to the church on short notice last Sunday morning, on account of the big crowd that overflowed the church to hear Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the superior court bench of Los Angeles.

Judge Wilbur talked very interestingly on the question of caring for children who in one way and another are brought to the attention of the courts.

DAMAGED BY FIRE.

The cushions and top of the automobile belonging to R. A. Welch, a local real estate man, were damaged by fire last Saturday night. It is not known how the machine got afire. The fire department answered the call but the flames were quickly extinguished without the use of the water apparatus.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker and little son, Bobbie, leave next Thursday on an eastern trip. They will visit Mr. Walker's parents in Virginia, visit Washington, D. C., New York, Niagara Falls, and spend the remainder of the time with Mrs. Walker's parents in Michigan. Mr. Walker will remain about six weeks. Mrs. Walker and Bobbie expect to stay until school opens in the fall.

Origin of the Name Siberia.
In 1582 Yermak, a Cossack chieftain, with a band of warriors "chosen for their bravery rather than for their morality," set out to chastise and subdue a powerful Tartar tribe east of the Ural mountains. When Czar Ivan IV heard of it he was badly frightened, for he feared to stir up the fierce Tartars. He frantically sent orders for the expedition to return. But it was too late. Yermak and his men had already crossed the mountains. When they approached the city of Sibir, the stronghold of the Tartar chief, they found an army thirty times as large as their own awaiting them. But they were far better equipped with arms and ammunition than were the Tartars and administered to them a crushing defeat. Sibir was captured and became the nucleus of the expansion of the Russian empire in Asia, giving its name to the new country—Siberia.

Fragments of Guinea.
Few geographical names have in turn swollen and shrunk in importance as "Guinea" has. Originally this or something like this appears to have been the name of a forgotten little town and "kingdom" in the Niger region. Then the name expanded in European use to signify everything from the coast opposite the Canaries to the boundary of Southwest Africa and gave us not only the coin called after its gold and the guinea fowl, but also, by a natural error, the "guinea pig"—really the Guinea pig from South America. Now those tiny fragments, the Spanish, Portuguese and French Guineas, alone preserve the name on the map, together with the gulf.—London Chronicle.

The Boy of It.
A boy wanted a dog, and the rich uncle said:

"Well, Eddie, suppose I give you $200 for a dog. Would you spend that whole sum in one dog, or would you buy a pretty good dog and put the rest of the money in the savings bank?"

"Well, uncle," replied Eddie, "if you leave it to me I would buy 200 one dollar dogs."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Benevolence.
There cannot be a more glorious object in creation than a human being, replete with benevolence, meditating in what manner he might render himself most accepted to his Creator by doing most good to his creatures.—Fielding.

Reception To Rector By Townspeople

The Rev. Alfred Fletcher, on the Eve of Closing His Ministry Here, Is Given Fine Expression of Regard by Large Gathering—Will Preach Last Sermon on Coming Sunday.

As an expression of appreciation of the work that he has accomplished in over fourteen years of ministry in this city, a reception was tendered Rev. Alfred Fletcher of Holy Trinity Episcopal church by the members of his parish and townspeople on Tuesday evening in Reed's hall. There were 250 people who made the occasion a warm-hearted and intimately friendly thank-offering for the good that the rector has done as the leader of his parish.

Rev. Fletcher's ministry closes here after this coming Sunday, when he will move to Los Angeles to take up various diocesan work. While his plans are not fully elaborated, it is known that he is to enter into the active work of which there is so much in the parishes of Los Angeles. He is secretary of the Los Angeles Episcopal diocese. The rector's place is to be taken by Rev. C. T. Murphy, who for some time has been rector of St. Athanasius' church in Los Angeles.

A musical program furnished by the members of the choir and their friends, was arranged by Mrs. Harry Damerel, who succeeded in bringing together one of the best entertainments that the church people have enjoyed in a long time. An orchestra composed of Mrs. Damerel, piano; Miss Ollie Jones of Glendora, violinist; Fred Preston, clarinet; and Henry L. Marshall, trombone, played selections from Lucia, and other acceptable numbers. The old chorus favorite, "Italia," was rendered by thirty voices constituting the Episcopal choir, and as an encore they sang "California." These numbers were accompanied by the orchestra. There were very acceptable vocal solos rendered by Miss Helen Broadwell, Mrs. Henry L. Marshall, and Mrs. John Brunjes of Glendora, two mixed quartet selections by Mrs. Brunjes, Mrs. Marshall, and Messrs. Marshall and Sprout, and piano solos by Robert Broadwell.

The affair was presided over by Judge H. N. Wells, who made a brief speech in which he spoke eloquently of the fine work of Rev. Fletcher here, and of the years of active work in the ministry which are still awaiting him. Rev. Mr. Fletcher, at a later time in the evening, made a reply, in which he took occasion to thank parishioners and townspeople alike for the years of splendid harmony spent here. A committee of ladies from the Woman's Guild served refreshments. Among those who participated in the reception which followed was Rev. C. T. Murphy, the rector's successor.

During Rev. Fletcher's ministry here he has built a handsome church edifice, spoken of everywhere as one of the most beautiful and church-like buildings of any of the towns of Southern California. It has been his opportunity to build five church buildings in California, and in other ways he has a record above the average in the church of his faith.

At the Sunday services next Sunday he will preach for the last time as rector, although it is confidently expected that he will return many times on various occasions in the future. A special musical service is being prepared for this occasion by the organist, Alec Anderson, and will be participated in by all the singers who have taken part in choir work in the past in this church.

RANDALL VOTES AGAINST PREPAREDNESS BILL.

Washington, May 22.—The Hay-Chamberlain army bill passed the house Saturday by a vote of 349 to 25, and will go to the president immediately.

The bill provides for a standing peace army of 175,000 men, which congress has the power to decrease. It carries federal pay for the national guard and provides for citizen training camps. The strength of the militia is raised to 428,000. Representative Randall of Los Angeles voted against the bill.

ADULTERATED FOODS.

Simple Tests by Which Impurities May Be Detected.

Some simple tests for adulterants in food are given by S. Leonard Bastin in the Scientific American. Here are a few of them:

Put a small bit of butter in a teaspoon and boil it over a gas flame. Real butter boils quietly, producing a quantity of small bubbles; margarine crackles and sputters.

Rub dry tea leaves in a clean white cloth. Pure tea will leave no mark; dyed tea will leave a stain.

Make an almost saturated solution of sugar in water; place this in a clear glass tube and stand it in front of some print. If the sugar is pure it should be possible to read easily through the solution.

Put a piece of bread in a saucer and pour a solution of carbonate of ammonia over it. If alum be present the bread will turn black. If the bread be pure no change will take place.

Dilute a sample of jam or jelly with an equal quantity of water. Put a bit of cotton batting into it and boil for half an hour. Now try to wash out the stain. This will be easy if the jam be pure, impossible if it has been dyed. Add a few drops of methyl aniline violet to some vinegar. If this be pure it will not change color; if adulterated, it will turn blue or green.

OUR AIR WILL NOT FAIL US.

No Need to Fear That the Nitrogen Will Ever Be Exhausted.

A student at the University of Washington, having read about making nitrogen from the air, entered the chemistry department and asked the professors there what would happen when all the nitrogen had been taken out of the air. The University of Washington News-Letter says that this is what they told him:

"The atmosphere over a square mile of land is estimated to contain 20,000,000 tons of nitrogen, which is enough to furnish all the world would require for fifty years at the present rate of consumption. Even if that were not so, there would be no danger, for there's a sort of 'dust to dust' process involved that is a safeguard in itself. "Nitrates when they go into the soil are taken up by the roots of plants and utilized. After the plant decays the nitrogen is given off, and it returns again to the atmosphere. "If employed in the manufacture of explosives, when the charge is exploded part of the nitrate returns to the air as gas, while some goes into solution, falls to the earth and is taken up by the plants, returning later to the air."

Vernet in a Storm at Sea.

Vernet, the celebrated painter of sea pieces, eager in the study of nature, made several long voyages in his younger days in order to observe the various scenes which the changeable elements exhibit. In one of these excursions undertaken merely for the love of the art a most violent gale of wind arose, when Vernet, without attending to the perils with which he was surrounded, desired one of the sailors to lash him fast to some of the rigging. Soon after this request was granted the storm increased, attended with thunder and lightning and with every circumstance that could add to the horror of the scene, and consternation and terror sat on every countenance, but in the young painter every emotion was lost in that of admiration, which so wholly engrossed his attention that he every now and then exclaimed in the most enthusiastic terms, "Good heavens, what a noble scene!"

The Shillalah.

The shillalah is no raw limb of a tree. It is almost as much a work of art as a well balanced cricket bat. The old shillalahs were so carefully looked after by their loving owners as is a rifle in the wilds. Cut from the sturdiest of young blackthorns and showing as little taper as an ebony ruler, it was weighted with lead or iron at the end nearest the grip so that its center of gravity was about four-fifths of the way from the hitting end. When properly seasoned by being kept in the neighborhood of the farm oven for a few months it became a thing of supple steel. And the proper pronunciation of the name of this fearsome weapon is the melodious one of "shill-lah," with the accent on the "all."—London Mirror.

Time to Make a Change.

Sir William Philips was appointed governor in chief of the province of Massachusetts Bay in 1692. During his administration the terrible war against witchcraft raged for some sixteen months. When his own wife, Lady Philips, was named as having exercised the powers of witchcraft Sir William began to view this whole terrible madness in a new light, and he put a stop to all trials and discharged the prisoners then awaiting trial.

When the Window Sticks.

Take each window cord in hand at the same time and pull them out until the weights are up at the top. Let go suddenly and they will drop in place with sufficient force to start the window open, when no amount of pushing will do it.

The change of fashions is the tax that the industry of the poor levies on the vanity of the rich.—Chamfort.

CHARTER OAK.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sohn spent last week-end with Long Beach friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mace leave next Tuesday for a visit of several months in Vermont. They will spend this time visiting their children and friends in their former home. Mrs. Sibley, mother of Mrs. Daniel Durkee, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Mace as far as her home in Vermont, where she will remain. Mr. and Mrs. Mace expect to be gone until autumn.

Mrs. Anderson will entertain the members of the Charter Oak Thimble Club next Saturday afternoon instead of Tuesday, the usual day, at her home on the Rowland ranch. The affair will be given on that date in order that Mrs. Mace and Mrs. Sibley, who leave Tuesday for Vermont, may be present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Edwards of Santa Barbara spent last Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. G. Morris and family. Mrs. Edwards returned to Los Angeles to visit relatives, while Mr. Edwards is attending to work on his ranch.

Mrs. R. H. Middleton will spend the week-end with Mrs. George Williams in Los Angeles.

Mrs. John Mulder of Los Angeles has been spending the past week with her niece, Mrs. Lloyd Taylor.

Miss Eleanor Curtis is spending the week with Miss Juanita Morris in Los Angeles.

IRWINDALE.

The Irwindale Miscellany Club was entertained by Mrs. Yaw and Miss Ellen Beach Yaw at their home Tuesday afternoon with a musicale. Miss Yaw sang several selections, responding with a long list of old-time favorites. Miss Rose Frazer of Los Angeles, an intimate friend of Miss Yaw, gave several recitations and pianologues. A number of these selections given by Miss Frazer are her own compositions. The ladies were greatly delighted with them. The remainder of the afternoon was spent informally, dainty refreshments being served.

The next meeting of the club will be held next Thursday afternoon, June 1, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Simpson on Azusa and Cypress avenues. This is an extra meeting and the afternoon will be spent in finishing the sewing, that has been started and in closing the year's work prior to the annual business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Woodworth and family of Perris will spend next Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Woodworth and family.

Mrs. James Bilyeu and daughter, Miss Bessie, left last Sunday evening for a visit with relatives in the state of Washington. They expect to be away the greater part of the summer.

Mr. Frank Russell of Pasadena has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCadden this week.

Mrs. Jennie Wood has been spending the week with friends in Pasadena.

Mrs. J. W. Heath entertained the missionary societies of the Methodist church of Covina on Thursday for their regular all-day meeting.

Mrs. E. E. Harris and children spent the week-end with Mr. Harris at Gardena.

WEST COVINA.

The pupils of the West Covina grammar school, under the direction of Miss Seaman, gave the final entertainment of the year last evening (Thursday) in the West Covina club-house. The program consisted of a selection by a part of the Covina high school orchestra; recitation, "The Will and the Way," by Chester Pearson; operetta, "The Gossips," Marjorie Newton, Arline Hotchkiss, Mary Lee Stafford, Virgie May Pratt, Mary Akers, and Mildred Alexander; song by the first and second grades, "Ginger Cat"; recitation, "Girls Who Are in Demand," Merriam Pearson; "The Jumping Jack," third and fourth grades; recitation, "The Scholar," Marjorie Stafford; piano solo, "Throwing Kisses," Mildred Alexander; dialogue, "The Wonderful Scholar," Alice Maxson, Edith Maxson, Arden Hotchkiss; song, "We're Just as Happy," first, second, third and fourth grades; and a closing number by the high school orchestra.

Miss Seaman spent last Saturday with friends in Long Beach. She will also spend next Saturday there. On Sunday Miss Seaman was a guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bush, in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Speer will spend next Sunday on their ranch in Victor Valley.

Miss Vera Dancer was a guest last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and son Carl, of Irwindale, at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Schlaegel and Russell Duguid of Los Angeles were over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Goode of Arroyo Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Goode spent several days last week with relatives in Santa Ana.

PUENTE.

The losing side in the recent contest in the Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a banquet to the victors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Larmer last Saturday evening, and the event was one of plenty of hilarity, good cheer and good things to eat. Mr. and Mrs. Larmer proved to be just the right kinds of hosts for an occasion of this kind. The big lawn was utilized for the playing of games during the evening, and an informal entertainment was given.

George Cross and Peter Feddersohn went to Los Angeles yesterday on a business trip.

Howard R. Link was transacting business in Los Angeles yesterday.

Hill street, Victoria and Temple streets will be improved at once with sidewalk and curbing. The contract has been let to Raymond Hopper. The contract price is 11 cents for sidewalk per foot, and 20 cents per lineal foot for curb. The significance of this is that the property owners all agreed to stand the expense. It will be one of the notable improvements of the year.

Mrs. Button, an aunt of Miss Agnes Moses, has been a guest here this week.

Miss Grace Russell has been a week-end guest of college friends in Santa Ana.

A meeting for the purpose of organization will be held by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church at the parsonage next Tuesday evening. This is a recently-added society of the church. The officers will be elected at this meeting.

Raymond Hopper, Whitcomb Hudson, Mr. Gilly and D. Oxnard were among the local men who have been fishing this week in Newport bay. Friends of these citizens found fine barracuda placed on their doorsteps when these men returned. Hopper reports that he caught over 500 pounds of this fish on his trip.

Prof. Millikan wishes to announce that he has installed a telephone in his home, No. 176.

DECISIONS AFFIRMED.

The state supreme court has affirmed the finding of the state railroad commission in the case of the Camp Rineon Resort Company and R. M. Follows, owners of camps in the San Gabriel canyon, fixing at $50 the amount to be paid by the Cold Brook Camp Company, annually, for connection with the telephone lines owned by the first named.

MAXIMUM TIRE SERVICE.

(By F. H. Bisbee of the Covina Garage & Machine Shop, local Savage tire distributors.)

What is the average mileage you obtain from your tires? Some motorists barely succeed in getting the mileage allowed in our guarantee, while others repeatedly get five or six times this mileage allowance. This difference is obviously not due to any difference in the quality of the tires and it is worthy of your careful consideration.

The difference in the weight of cars, compared to the size of the tires and the usage which cars undergo, will to a considerable extent, determine average mileage, but, even with cars of the same size, tired and used in exactly the same way, the difference in the service is astonishing, so we must find other reasons for it.

The reasons are really not hard to find. The man who cares for his car, who sees that his tires are kept properly inflated, that his brakes are working properly, that his rims fit straight on the felloe band and who drives carefully, is the one who is always the most ready to praise the tires he uses.

Above everything else, tire mileage depends upon careful starting and care in driving. Let your clutch in slowly, apply your brake the same way. Do not be afraid to slow down when approaching railroad or street car crossings. Keep an "eye ahead" and avoid rocks and other obstructions and you will be very agreeably surprised by the increased mileage you will get from your tires, whether they be Savages or any other of the other good makes on the market.

TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE.

Many Covina people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT easy action of Adler-ika is astonishing. W. W. Nash.

PRECIOUS PETROLEUM.

It is a Priceless Resource That Can Never Be Replaced.

"How much petroleum there is in the United States no one knows," writes Franklin K. Lane in an article on "Economic Preparedness," published in the Scientific American. But at the present rate of consumption—205,000,000 barrels a year—it will soon be exhausted, for the geological survey's maximum estimate is 23,000,000,000 barrels.

"Whatever the supply," says Mr. Lane, "it should not be allowed in its crude state to compete with coal as fuel. Petroleum is a priceless resource, for it can never be replaced. Trees can be grown again on the soil from which they have been taken. But how can petroleum be produced? It has taken ages for nature to distill it in her subterranean laboratory. We do not even know her process. We may find a substitute for it, but we have not yet."

"It is practically the one lubricant of the world today. Not a railroad wheel turns without its way being smoothed by it. We can make light and heat by hydroelectric power, but the great turbines move on bearings that are smothered in petroleum. From it we get the quick exploding gas which is to the motor and the airship what air is to the human body. To industry, agriculture, commerce and the pleasures of life petroleum is now essential."

MUSK IN THE RAW.

It Looks Much Like Axle Grease, but Has a Worse Odor.

Musk in the raw looks a good deal like axle grease and smells worse. The popular notion that the musk of commerce is obtained from the muskrat is a mistake.

There is obtained a somewhat similar perfume from the muskrat, but most of the supply comes from the musk deer, a creature that is carefully reared in India for the sake of the secretion. The secretion is shipped in the crude state and is used not only in the manufacture of the liquid perfume sold as musk, but also in very small quantities to give strength and staying power to many perfumes made from the essential oils of flowers.

Curiously enough, the blossoms of two native plants have a noticeably musky odor. One is the small yellow blossom of a creeping vine known as the musk plant. Its odor is marked and is counterfeited in the commercial perfume called musk. The other is the bloodroot. The pure white blossom of that early spring plant has a distinct though delicate musky odor.

A bean known as the musk bean is a cheap substitute for animal musk.—London Standard.

Curious Church Architecture.

The parish church of Ormakirk, in Lancashire, England, has a tower and a spire side by side. The tower is built over the porch at the west end, and the spire is placed as closely as possible to it. The origin of this architectural freak has not been ascertained, but there is a tradition to the effect that when Orme, the Saxon pirate from whom the town derives its name, decided to construct a kirk, or church, as an expiatory offering for his evil deeds his two daughters quarreled over the design for the structure. One determined to have a tower; the other was equally resolved to have a steeple. As neither of them would give way the pirate chief acceded to both their wishes, and the curious may see the tower and spire still keeping watch side by side on the surrounding country.

Origin of the Hackney.

The hackney horse has given quite a number of useful words to the language. He and his name came from Normandy originally—haqueenee, really a corruption of the Latin for horse—and he was a riding horse. Being commonly hired out, the name came to be associated with hiring and in course of time also with drudgery. Today there are far more hackney carriages, within the meaning of the act, without horses than with. A literary hack is another form of the same name, and hackneyed is an obvious derivation from a common source.—London Chronicle.

English Injustice.

An Australian tourist traveling in the west of Ireland asked an old woman how far it was to the nearest town. She sadly looked at him, then sighed and said:

"It was five nice miles two years ago, but some English brute came over with chains and made it seven, and our hearts are broke walking it ever since. Bad luck to them!"

And she disappeared into the house, leaving him there.—Illustrated Bits.

A Sad Fact.

What we need in this sad world is not greater equality of opportunity, but a more stable equilibrium in labor. We either have nothing at all to do and starve to death, or have too much to do and work ourselves to death, until the chief aim of man would seem to be merely to shuffle off this mortal coil.—Judge.

Praise With a Purpose.

"I heard Mr. Subbubs speaking most beautifully of his wife to another lady on the train just now. Rather unusual in a man these days."

"Not under the circumstances. That was a new cook he was escorting out." Louisville Courier-Journal.

The heart of a loving woman is a golden sanctuary where often there reigns an idol of clay.—Lamarae.

EXPERIMENT STATION BIDS OPENED BY REGENT BOARD.

At noon Wednesday the bids entered by Los Angeles, Riverside and San Diego contractors for the contract to build the new citrus experiment station of the University of California at Riverside were opened in the office of the regents of the university in the University League building, Los Angeles. Six bids in all were entered, only two of which came within the $125,000 appropriation for the plant.

A few minor details will be straightened out by the architects, Lester H. Hibbard and H. B. Cody, who drew up the plans, and the bids will then be presented to the board of regents. This will be the second Tuesday in June, at which time the contract will be awarded and instructions issued for immediate start on the work.

The bids received are from the Cresmer Manufacturing Company of Riverside, $119,500; Hancock Waldeman of Riverside, $123,000; Merchants Realty and Investment Company of Los Angeles, $135,145; William Crowell, Pasadena, $139,132; W. E. Kier Construction Company of San Diego, $140,000. Although no definite action will be taken until the bids are formally presented to the regent board, it is generally understood the Cresmer Manufacturing Company will receive the contract, and will commence work immediately.

PROFITABLE FRUIT SEASON FOR GLENDORA NAVELS.

The season's campaign by the Glendora Citrus Association for the Washington navel oranges was brought to a successful close Friday of last week with a shipment of 500 carloads, as against 475 carloads for the preceding season.

There were forwarded 20 carloads of miscellaneous oranges, for which good prices were received.

The estimates placed on the Valencia crop of oranges does not encourage the belief that the output will be greatly in excess of the season of 1914-15. The growers, while hopeful of good prices for the Valencia crop to be moved this season, do not expect to duplicate the prices of the previous year.

The growers figure again of right, around 25 cents a box more for the navel oranges that was received last year and find much to encourage them in the larger returns.

The Glendora Heights Orange and Lemon Association wound up the season's campaign a week of more ago and report that 125 carloads of Washington navel oranges were packed and forwarded to the markets from their packing house. The total shipment fell a little below the number of carloads sent out last year, which was 150 carloads. The growers are not disappointed so much after all, as the shortage in the quantity of output was more than made up in the higher prices received per box for the crop.

The Glendora Heights Association is placing an estimate of from 160 to 175 carloads of Valencia oranges. This association is planning to begin actively to pack and forward the Valencia crop within the next week or ten days.

The Glendora Citrus Association expects to launch the season's campaign for the Valencia oranges in about a week.

---Performances Not Promises North Whittier Heights Orange, Lemon, Walnut and Avocado Lands and Groves

The universally favorable opinion which is held of our North Whittier Heights citrus and walnut land subdivision by the orchardists of the Whittier and other adjoining sections is easily accounted for in the fact that the owners of this choice holdings have accomplished much in the way of development and have not tried to boost their property through extravagant promises of big things to be done in the future.

Approximately 1200 acres of this property has been planted to orchards, since the spring of 1913, by the owners and purchasers of the property, which record speaks for itself.

It is being sold in unplanted tracts of 5 acres and up or in tracts planted to one, two and three year old orchards and on easy terms if desired. We will also contract to plant or care for orchards for those who wish to have us do so.

If you are in the market for a safe investment and a desirable location for a suburban orchard home, we shall be pleased to show you the property by auto any day. Call, phone or write for full information and a descriptive folder. See Russell or Maple, with
